Laurel History Edit-a-thon
At the Laurel Museum
817 Main Street, Laurel, MD 20707
Saturday, November 16, 2013
10:15am-4:00pm

Join the Laurel Historical Society to learn how to use and contribute to Wikipedia and Wikimedia Commons and expand the world's knowledge of Laurel, Maryland.

Plus, get a behind-the-scenes look at the Laurel Museum's collections and the John Calder Brennan Library!

This event will include new editor training by Dominic McDevitt-Parks, Cultural Partnerships Coordinator of Wikimedia DC, and a special collections tour and talk by the Laurel Historical Society.

The Details: Lunch will be provided. Bring your own laptop. Participants should come ready to stay the full day.

The Laurel History Edit-a-thon is a Wikipedia Loves Libraries event organized and hosted by the Laurel Historical Society and Wikimedia DC to improve articles broadly related to the history of Laurel, MD

For More Info:
817 Main Street, Laurel, MD 20707
www.laurelhistoricalsociety.org
info@laurelhistoricalsociety.org

Sponsored by Wikimedia DC