

Laurel Historical Society's Wikipedia Edit-A-Thon

Sunday, September 25, 2016
10:15am-4:00pm
Laurel History Edit-A-Thon

Laurel Museum, 817 Main Street

Join the Laurel Historical Society and the Michelle Smith Collaboratory for Visual Culture, University of Maryland to learn how to use and contribute to Wikipedia and Wikimedia Commons and expand the world's knowledge of Laurel.

The Details: Lunch will be provided.

Behind the scenes tour and new editor training included. Bring your own laptop.

Participants should come ready to stay the full day.

The Laurel History Edit-a-thon is a Wikipedia Loves Libraries event organized and hosted by the Laurel Historical Society, the Michelle Smith Collaboratory for Visual Culture, University of Maryland, and Wikimedia DC to improve articles broadly related to the history of Laurel, MD

For More Info:
817 Main Street, Laurel,
MD 20707

www.laurelhistoricalsociety.org
info@laurelhistoricalsociety.org

Sponsored by
Wikimedia DC