

Laurel Historical Society Virtual Program

Wednesday, March 9, 2022 – 7:00 pm

The Story of My Cookbook Passion: Culinary History & Recipe Heritage, 1920s–1980s, Viewed through My Collection of 3,000 Cookbooks

Pamela Kure Grogan presents a unique perspective of a cookbook about cookbooks, more an autobio-gastronomical-anthology of culinary history and heritage recipes in exploring her 3,000 cookbooks. Recently nominated as the only USA entry in the 'Food History' category for Gourmand International's Cookbook Awards, Pamela showcases the evolution – through cookbooks—of the changing tastes in our eating habits and more!

Celebrate Women's History Month with her colorful stories of our past with discussion on the impact of a post-pandemic culinary future.

This virtual program is free and open to the public, but registration is required using the link in the post or on our website.

After registering for the webinar, attendees will receive an email prior to the program with instructions to connect via Zoom.
